HEY, IT'S THE EVER-AMAZING

SPIDER-MAN!

A true hero at heart, Spider-Man has dedicated his life to preventing injustices against the innocent.

Meet Peter Parker, once a brilliant, though meek, high school student, orphaned as a child and reared by his doting Uncle Ben and Aunt May. At a science fair, Peter was bitten by an irradiated spider and gained the proportionate strength, speed, agility and early warning "spider sense" of that arachnid. He used these powers for personal fame and fortune as a masked Spider-Man. But when Peter failed to stop a criminal who later killed his beloved Uncle Ben, the youth's costumed identity took on a far deeper significance. He realized that with great power there must also come great responsibility. So Peter Parker became the wall-crawling nemesis of the criminal element, a young man determined to atone for the tragic death of his uncle — The Amazing Spider-Man!

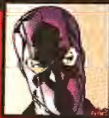

MARY JANE WATSON-PARKER

The wife of Peter Parker/Spider-Man, and his closest confidant. She has currently returned to Empire State University as a student majoring in psychology.

THE ROSE

A criminal mastermind whose face is hidden behind a mask, thus, his identity is a secret from all. The Rose's chief goal is the consolidation of New York's underworld behind him and the elimination of Spider-Man as a threat to his power.

DELILAH

The Rose's primary enforcer, she is a super-powered woman who has been set on the trail of Spider-Man several times, though she has failed to destroy him.

PAUL STACY

The brilliant, arrogant cousin of Peter Parker's late girlfriend, Gwen Stacy. He has recently moved to New York with his sister Jill and father Arthur, and attends E.S.U. as both a student and tutor.

ALISON MONGRAIN

A woman in the employ of Norman Osborn, the Green Goblin, who recently aided him in the death or abduction of the Parkers' infant.

THE HAND

A secretive cult of Asian assassins who worship a master called "The Beast." Due to arcane rituals they perform, the Hand has been able to revive the dead. Their most implacable in America has been the scarlet swash-buckler—Daredevil.

DOCTOR OCTOPUS

Otto Octavius was a researcher in atomic physics who had designed and built a chest harness with four artificial arms attached that allowed him to manipulate radioactive substances from a distance. A freak accident bonded the harness to his skin and affected his mind which then turned toward criminal enterprise. Doctor Octopus is one of the web-spinner's earliest enemies who has been thwarted time and again by Spider-Man.

STUNNER

A virtual reality construct possessing super-human strength and endurance. She was the lover of Otto Octavius just before his death. Stunner has taken in the hatred of Spider-Man felt by Octavius.

PREVIOUSLY IN

Last time, Spider-Man battled Electro across New York until the electrical menace plunged into the East River and disappeared.

Elsewhere, a strange cult of assassins called the Hand had removed the body of another of Spider-Man's greatest enemies—Doctor Octopus—from its grave in a Brooklyn cemetery.

When this was reported on the news, Carolyn Trainer, who had taken the good doctor's place—Lady Octopus—vowed to go in search of the grave robbers and exact revenge.

Hey Comics Fans!

My name is Chuck Rozanski. For the past 27 years I have been providing comics fans throughout the world with cool items for their collections. Starting with a small mail order operation in my parent's basement, I have built Mile High Comics into the largest comics retailer in America. In total, we have shipped satisfied collectors over $40,000,000 in comics since 1969!

Despite our obvious success, we have never forgotten that pleasing fans should be our number one priority. But this comes easy for us, since we are all fans of comics, too. Unlike some of our more cynical colleagues, we do not view comics as "product," or simply a means to make money. We share your passion for the delights of graphic storytelling, and have made it our goal to help every collector. Every cent we've earned from helping collectors has gone into buying more comics. That's how we amassed over 5,000,000 back issue comics. Please give us a chance to help you with your collection. You'll be glad you did!

HERE ARE WAYS THAT WE CAN HELP YOU!

BACK ISSUES

Our inventory is by far the largest in the entire comics industry. If we don't have what you want, our customer service representatives will work hard to locate any item. That's why Marvel, Marvel International, Marvel Animation (Star Line's division), DC International Licensing and Dark Horse Comics all use Mile High Comics as their back issue supplier. Send $1 for our huge 108-page catalog of back issue comics, cards, graphic novels, and toys or call (303) 455-2659 to place an order.

RETAIL STORES

Our two Mega-Stores in Thornton, Colorado and Garden Grove, California are the two largest comic shops in America. With a combined 20,000 square feet of rare collectibles, these stores set the standard for what comic stores should be. In addition to our two huge stores, we also have smaller stores in Denver, Lakewood, Littleton, Glendale, Aurora, and Colorado Springs, Colorado. For addresses check the yellow pages or call 1-800-676-6423.

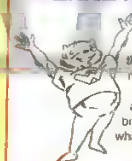

NEW COMICS

Our new comics subscription service is one of the largest in the world, providing thousands of collectors with their new comics. Not only do we offer fast service and a variety of shipping options, but we give discounts ranging from 10%-40% off on all new items shipped. In addition to comics, we also offer graphic novels, t-shirts, toys, gaming items, cards, and much more. To see a sample edition of our monthly N.I.C.E. (New Issue Comics Express) NEWS newsletter, please send $1. We'll rush a copy back to you by first class mail.

INTERNET SERVICES

Visit our web site and discover more about the services we offer! Each month we are adding more information about available back issues, news from the comics world, new product descriptions, and much more. Even better, you can e-mail us at any time and we promise to get back to you almost immediately. Some of the requests are a bit challenging, but we don't mind. Helping you is what we do, and we try to do it well.

BOB HARRAS

Dear Arachknights.

This title is the best in the Spiderverse And, as I consider Spidey's books the elite of Comicdom, that's high praise indeed! This Black Tarantula epic is shaping up nicely, but I hope all the plot strands and warring factions come together in a climax within the next few months. Don't drag it out too long

I'm pleased to see some fresh foes appearing, like Delilah, Dragonfly, and Black Tarantula. But how about someone really colorful and original, to rank alongside the likes of Sandman, Electro, Doc Ock and the Goblin? I know, I know... easier said than done! But there hasn't been a truly major league menace introduced since Venom in issue #300

In the tradition of saving the best for last, the back-up strip was the highlight of issue #421. If Geoff Isherwood ever wants to unleash his easel on the lead-strip, be sure to show him to the nearest drawing board! This was excellent entertainment! And the story threw a few interesting hints our way. It seems former star pupil Peter Parker isn't gonna find academia the stroll it used to be. Could it be that MJ's gonna become the studious one, while Pete ventures out into the wide world? Sure, he's good with the ol' test tubes, but I've never really believed he's gonna become a full-time scientist! It just doesn't seem natural. He's more of an action person—be it web-slinging, snapping photos or, ah, bringing up babies. (Yes, that's a hint)

It's good to see some humor and fun return to this series. Maybe Flash could use a booster dose of school life himself to boost his spirits? ESU has certainly brought back Mary Jane's long-lost sparkle. The last time she was this bubbly was before she got married! (Hmmm...)

And the Stacy's pop up yet again, eh? You've got something big planned for Jill and Paul, I know that. I also know I'm gonna enjoy sitting back to watch this little plotline unfold. Hey, with so much college activity happening, this book could turn into Marvel's own version of "Saved by the Bell"! (Now, there's an idea...)

Kevin Barron

ENGLAND

We may be getting a bit ahead of ourselves here, Kevin, but stick with the story a little longer, we believe that the Black Tarantula just may fulfill your desire for a "major league menace." We've barely even seen him as yet, and it certainly seems as if he's got his hands firmly in many a criminal pie.

As for Peter and his studies, let us not forget that Peter has always been a studious nature. Before he got powers, in fact, he was anything but an "action person." He may be struggling a little bit at first, but we expect that Peleyn'll catch up before too long. (Although Paul Stacy sure wouldn't mind if that never happened. What's the deal with that guy, anyway?)

Dear Spider's Web,

I absolutely loved AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #414 and 415 because they were just so jam packed with action. I loved it when Ben went into the sewer after Delilah and had to jump through the smoke screen, just barely saving Devine and his dad. I thought the artwork on the Sentinels was absolutely fabulous, and I loved it when the new Green Goblin was fighting off that humongous Sentinel. I only started collecting a year ago, and I'm already hooked on all the Spider-Man titles and the Uncanny X-Men. They should have some kind of comics Oscar awards for you guys (and gals) at Marvel

Before I go, I have a few questions

1 In issue #414, Jonah came up missing and his office was ransacked, then almost out of thin air, he pops up in issue #415 yet nobody even pays attention to the fact that he was gone in the first place. Where was Jonah during this period, and how did he get back?

2. In #421, Were Meiko and Karsano both vying for the title of Dragonfly, or was Meiko already the Dragonfly and Karsano trying to be her successor?

3 The Green Goblin is supposed to have a sort of strength serum that brought him back to life after he was impaled by his Glider way back when. So why hasn't the Goblin come back after he was beaten by Spider-Man during "Revelations" and swore he'd be back?

Well, until Mary Jane becomes the Amazing Spider-Woman (you know she'd look better than Cindy Crawford in those tights), Make Mine absolutely, positively Marvel!!!

Justin Cole
1068 Manuwill Road
Kailua, HI 96734

Welcome to comics, Justin; we hope to see your face around here for some time to come. As for your questions:

1. This was dealt with between issues, Justin. Still, mention should have been made of that fact in issue #415, and editor Ralph has been duly chastized for the oversight.

2. Meiko did not earn the title of Dragonfly until after Karsano had been defeated, which is why she is not referred to by that title until her Madam Qwa addresses her as such after the battle.

3. He didn't say he'd be right back, did he, Justin? Sheesh, it's not like he was just going to the corner for a quart of milk or anything. You know that Norman—he likes to plot and scheme for a little while before making his appearance. But we can drop you a little hint as to his next appearance. Without giving too much away, Norman should be popping up in, oh, say, about two weeks in SPECTACULAR SPIDER-MAN. Oops! We may have said too much!

Dear Spider's Web,
Re: AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #421:

Wow! I'm impressed! Even though I'm still going through Mark Bagley withdrawal, Steve Skroce's art is so, well, amazing!

The Dragonfly story has really got me intrigued. First, this Meiko lady says that she's against this Madam Qwa, then she calls her sensei and asks for redemption. Sheesh!

It seems that Spidey's world is changing all around him. I'm still getting over "Revelations." Still, I knew you guys weren't gonna take away any suspense, even though the clone saga is over. Guess I shouldn't say over. The Stacy family is back. Don't forget, there is a clone on their side of the tracks, too...

We're seeing a lot of new villains coming out lately. Don't get me wrong, they're great, but there are still a lot of other villains I want to see around, too. Here's a few: The Shocker (him especially), Scorpion, the Vulture (the original, old, one), the Looter (I know, we saw him a few months ago in SENSATIONAL, but he's one of my favorites) and the Rhino.

I really miss Ben a lot, but I'm relieved that the question of who the real Spidey is is over. Ben meant a lot to Peter, and I'm going to miss him.

Well, before I start getting too depressed, I better go. So, until Eddie Brock and Cletus Kasady go off for coffee, Make Mine Marvel!

Marshall Drew
227 West Second Street
Clarksdale, MS 38614

As if that guy over in the SENSATIONAL SPIDER-MAN letters pages who keeps screaming for Stegorn appearances wasn't bad enough, in comes this character who thinks that one Looter appearance just isn't enough. Just how many Norton Fester fans do you think are out there, anyway?

As for some of your other favorites, we hope you've been on your toes, Marshall. Otherwise you might have missed the appearance of a decidedly aged Vulture in last month's SENSATIONAL issue. You also might have passed by the Rhino in KA-ZAR #5. Hurry up! You may still be able to find a copy! It just went on sale last week. On the other hand, what are the chances that there are any unsold copies of a book wherein the awesome Andy Kubert pencils everyone's top charging churl? Be prepared to pay top dollar! And the shocker makes his shocking reappearance in an upcoming issue of PETER PARKER, SPIDER-MAN. Don't be late!

Entomologists,

Ish #421? Very... martially artistic! And a little different in having two separate stories tied so readily together. Meiko is a strong character... perhaps an overdue testament to the Korean female's persona. But characters like this have been appearing in Korean comics for years. Now... Angela's cousin just happens to pop into Spideyville.

We certainly got into the action right away. That and the great humorous verbal quips have always been Spidey's powerful denominator. Madam Qwa is a compelling twirl on the ol' baddie theme. The flashback segment involving her setting up our story very well... and all in the space of only six panels. Good job, Tom. And let's not neglect our shifty jiggle at the end of part one! Our star gal is in the service of the Madam. But Meiko seems way too bright and high-minded to be involving herself with Qwa. Methinks later she's going to turn into one of the good people.

The Skroce and LaRosa work was entertaining to the eye. On the cartoonish side. Unique. Certainly did the job. Whereas Isherwood's efforts were heavier, more serious, and likewise did the job. Tom certainly squeezed in what he could in our eight-page part two. The amazing costume change. The quick intro of Connover, a potential future anti-social type. The compelling Mary Jane, about whom Spidey had made us wonder all ish. The ol' need-to-sell-some-pics-to-pay-those-regular-guy-bills schtick. Quick touch on Jill's brother. Parker's present-day, blonde-headed adversary. We love it. I was waiting for a clone of Harry Osborn to appear from the woodwork of academia.

Qwa wasn't villain enough? You had to shove in the effervescent weird Rose and Delilah, and Tarantula? Man, I'm tired after reading this one...

Andy Herman
702 Wright Ln. #118
Aurora, CO 80045

Thanks for the kind words, Andy. So you believe that Meiko is headed for the side of the angels, eh? Maybe, maybe not. Suffice it to say that the final chapter about this mysterious young lady has yet to be written.

Dear Marvel,
Re: SPIDER-MAN: HOBGBLIN LIVES!

I just wanted to let you know that HOBGBLIN LIVES! was the best Spider-Man story I've read in several years. My only problem with it (and this is probably writer Roger Stern's concern) was the battle at the end in which Kingsley was unmasked. It seemed too easy. I mean, they fought each other to a standstill in their other encounters. The battle should have been more drawn out. Regardless, it was still a great read. Why isn't Stern on a regular Spider-book? I know he wrote SPIDER-MAN: DEAD MAN'S HAND, but why not a monthly? I only read AMAZING SPIDER-MAN, but if Stern were to write, say, SPECTACULAR SPIDER-MAN, I'd definitely pick it up. And so would about 10 other people I know.

Francis Lord
3303 Eastview

Ten more copies? Quick, someone get Stern on the phone!

But seriously, Francis, we are equally big fans of the esteemed Mr. Stern. Unfortunately, so is everyone else in the comic book field! His plate is so full right now that he had to reluctantly beg off the new hit title HEROS FOR HIRE after plotting just the first issue! But rest assured, Roger can write for us whenever he wants to.

X-MEN

The PRIME SENTINELS, wielding their latest deadly technology, continue their relentless hunt for ICEMAN and mutant doctor CECILIA REYES! Help may be on the way — an Israeli Mossad agent has fled her homeland to deliver information that could mean the end of BASTION and the hateful OPERATION: ZERO TOLERANCE! By SCOTT LOBDELL and CARLOS PACHECO!

STAR TREK: STARFLEET ACADEMY

On the forbidden world of TALOS IV, OMEGA SQUAD battles rampaging hordes of JEM'HADAR! The only way to stop the primitive warriors is to blow up their stash of energy-supplying drugs! Can PAVA do it alone? By CHRIS COOPER and CHRIS RENAUD!

MARVEL ONLINE (available JULY 16)

SPIDER-MAN CYBERCOMIC

A startling new saga begins! Someone is targeting Osborn Industries for destruction — and SPIDER-MAN thinks that someone may be his greatest enemy, back from the dead! By GLENN GREENBERG, PAT CHAU and MARK BADGER!

ITEM! Marvel interns make good! JASON DURNIN, a junior at New York's Baruch College, and SCOTT KELSON, a SUNY at Albany Junior, recently spoke about the glory of comics and the job opportunities therein to a group of third and fourth-graders at P.S. 88 in Queens! And their good deed made the news! The Daily News, to be precise! Jason and Scott's appearance was part of the paper's "New York Knicks Present Master Math" program. The guys talked about their internships, how comics are put together, and how they use math on a daily basis. (Don't we all?) The article ran in 800,000 copies of the May 14 issue of the News! Good work, guys! Thanks for helping to spread the good name of Marvel to the uneducated masses! We're proud of you! Now GET BACK TO WORK!

ITEM! WHAT IF? turns 100 next week! And to celebrate this fabulous event, we're giving you a double-sized issue that packs a king-sized wallop! The main story is plotted and drawn by KLAUS JANSON, with scripting by IVAN (GHOST RIDER) VELEZ, JR., and features that star-crossed couple, GAMBIT and ROGUE! It seems that the Louisiana bad boy has stumbled upon the biggest secret in the Marvel Universe — one that could lead to its ultimate destruction! But when it comes to love, the ace-flipping X-Man isn't playing with a full deck! When MR. SINISTER offers a serum that will finally allow Rogue to touch Gambit, as well as a possible cure for the Legacy Virus in exchange for the deadly secret, the ragin' Cajun can't say no! Now, Rogue must reach SINISTER before it's too late — but how can she get Gambit out of the way? We'll give you a hint: it's in her kiss!

Speaking of "out of the way," WHAT IF #100 also features a back-up story by ROB PIOTROWSKI that's pretty much out of this world — what if the FANTASTIC FOUR crash-landed in the LAND OF OZ? We all know the INVISIBLE WOMAN will be Dorothy — but does anyone care to lay bets as to who will take the part of the cowardly lion? This tall tale features art by RURIK TYLER! Don't miss this spectacular issue! It's the coolest WHAT IF? ever — no question about it!

EDITORIAL PROFILE: GLENN GREENBERG

ABLE ASSISTANT EDITOR AND TV SHOW KILLER

HE'S WRITTEN: The SPIDER-MAN CYBERCOMIC for Marvel Online, the SPIDER-MAN: THE OSBORN JOURNAL one-shot, SPIDER-MAN UNLIMITED #17, THE ADVENTURES OF SPIDER-MAN, and issues of THE SILVER SURFER!

HE ASSISTANT EDITS: THUNDERBOLTS, UNTOLD TALES OF SPIDER-MAN, HERCULES AND THE HEART OF CHAOS, VENOM, GHOST RIDER, MARVEL TEAM-UP, and various one-shots and limited series!

WHAT DOES AN ASSISTANT EDITOR DO? All the work!

WHAT DOES AN ASSISTANT EDITOR GET FOR IT? None of the credit!

HOW HE GOT INTO MARVEL: Actually, I'm one of the few editorial people on staff who never did an internship here first! I started by doing letters pages for a couple of the editorial offices, and eventually was brought on staff!

WORST JOB EVER: I was once hired by a temp agency to do office work while in college, so I arrived at work dressed in a suit and tie, only to find myself dragging heavy office furniture from room to room for two days!

HE'S ATTEMPTED THE WEAKEST PICKUP LINE KNOWN TO MAN: "Virginia Beach... where is that, Florida?"

HE COOKS: Poorly, but I can make a mean barbecued chicken with spaghetti when I have to!

HE APPRECIATES AND ADMIRES THE TALENTS OF OTHERS: My main influences have been Stan Lee, George Lucas, Steven Spielberg, Howard Stern, Gene Roddenberry, Stephen King, Denzo O'Neil, Mark Gruenwald, Roger Stern, Peter David, J.M. DeMatteis, Marv Wolfman, and Bram Stoker!

THE BEST MOVIE HE'S EVER SEEN: The Empire Strikes Back.

THE WORST MOVIE HE'S EVER SEEN: A three-way tie between Crash, Highlander 2, and Halloween 6!

HOW HE KILLS TV SHOWS: If I like a television show, it's probably going to get cancelled. The most recent example: American Gothic! Luckily, I still have NYPD Blue!

IF YOU CALLED HIS MOTHER, SHE'D PROBABLY TELL YOU GLENN IS: Hot-tempered, frequently nice and usually well-meaning!

HE'S TALENTED: My hobbies are playing guitar, reading, goofing off with Ralph Macchio and Mark Bernardo, and slowly but surely driving Tom Brevoort insane!

STAN'S SOAPBOX!

Hi, Heroes!

Welcome to the culture corner and to the most widely-read column of all (among the Lee family) as we breathlessly meet our lucky No-Prize Laureates!

The first one favored by fate is Russell Lasky of Fort Lee, N.J., who poses this emotion-tinged query:

"I'd like to get my own comics published. I'd also like to work for Marvel. Should I keep doing my own characters or work on established characters like Captain America and Thor?"

Well, Russ, before I can answer in my usual Solomonic manner, we'd haveta know how good you are. And this goes for all you misguided maniacs who wanna work in comics! Send samples of your work to Marvel's "Submissions Editor." His answer may change thy life forever!

From East Yorkshire, England, Kevin Barron daringly demands:

"Slip back into fan mode and tell us your three favorite Marvel stories of all time."

That's kinda tough, 'cause, as you've probably suspected, I'm my own biggest fan and love everything I write! However, I'll nominate the Fantastic Four's "This Man, This Monster," the Silver Surfer's "Parable," and Spider-Man's "The Kid Who Collects Spider-Man." (It's heresy! I didn't even write that one! Rollickin' Roger Stern did!)

Our third No-Prizer, Robert Hobbs of Norwalk, IA, has been losing sleep wondering:

"Will your new line of 'Excelsior Comics' ever see print?"

Alas, those new mags were due a year ago, but my workload on the movies suddenly doubled and I didn't have the time necessary to ensure that Excelsior would be as good as we wanted it to be. And you know Mighty Marvel would never give you less than the absolute best! But don't despair, True Believers — when you least expect it, there shall come —

Excelsior!
